Part IV. “Parents Right to Know” Policy

The parents’ right to know provision requires that two types of communication be provided to parents of students in Title I schools.

Parent notification by district: A district receiving Title I funds must send a notification to parents, informing them of their right to request information on the qualifications of their child’s teacher. The information that the district must provide if requested included the following:

- 1) Whether or not the teacher has met the certification requirement of the state;
- 2) Whether or not the teacher is teaching under an emergency or other provisional status;
- 3) The bachelor’s degree major of the teacher and any other graduate certification or degree held by the teacher in the field or discipline of his or her certificate or degree; and
- 4) Whether or not the child received service from a paraprofessional, and, if so, his or her qualifications.

Parent notification by school: Additionally, schools receiving federal Title I funds must send parents certain information in a timely manner, in a language that is understandable, to the extent that is feasible. Title I schools must provide the following:

- 1) Information on the child’s level of achievement on state assessments and
- 2) Timely notice that the child has been assigned to or been taught by a teacher who does not meet the highly qualified teacher requirements for four or more consecutive weeks.
